

Personal Security Report for:

Introduction, Personal Security Report:

The purpose of this report is to provide you with information which you can use to help protect yourself (or your child) from crime, based on your astrological chart.

The most important thing to remember always is that it is YOU -YOUR consciousness and YOUR willpower which are your best protection against crime. The value of this report is to provide you with information which will help YOU, as an empowered, responsible, and creative individual to make the most effective decisions for yourself. This report is a resource for you to use; it is supportive of your own ability to make your own, best choices.

In fact, crimes occur only when individuals are out of touch with their inner strengths. If they are not in tune with themselves, they may not realize that they are not protecting themselves. They may be in a state of mind where they have lost sight of the knowledge that they CAN control their own destiny.

However, by being aware of the specific pitfalls to which you might be susceptible as an individual, you can concentrate your energies on protecting yourself in those areas first. Then you will have increased your level of safety and freed yourself to work on unfolding your inner potential in other ways.

By transforming your fear of crime into an experience of your own empowerment, you will be confronting some of your deepest fears and healing them on a permanent, deep, karmic level. The benefits, therefore, will go far beyond crime prevention in allowing you to advance along the spiritual path.

When persons are trapped in the cycle of karma, they can mistakenly believe that they must endure hurt or punishment. They create the hurt and punishment by thinking these negative thoughts. They attract negativity from other people, even to the extreme of attracting victimhood by crime. The answer is to become aware of what thoughts you are thinking on the unconscious level and to replace these thoughts with positive ones. Then, you will attract security, happiness, and self-confidence into your life.

Your natal astrological chart reveals where you may be thinking negative thoughts. It also suggests what you can do, given your unique personality, to divert these same energies into positive outlets. The essence of this report, then, is to show you what these energies are and how to work with them positively. In addition, this report elaborates on your many positive talents and strengths, which are additional resources which you can use both to protect yourself from crime and to go beyond that in healing yourself and the planet.

In the entire range of features in your chart, there are likely to be some energies which could lead to a vulnerability to crime more than others if they are not handled wisely. Any such aspects, which indicate a particular need for conscious work on your part in order to minimize any risk of crime, are indicated by a # at the beginning of the first paragraph of the interpretation. Do not worry if you have some #'s. They do not mean that any crime will necessarily happen to you; they just mean that, if you want to do some conscious work to make sure that you are protecting yourself, then these are the most important places to start. In fact, the ones marked # are usually the ones where you can develop the strongest POSITIVE abilities, if you go to the conscious effort of ensuring that these same energies are directed positively rather than negatively.

In addition, you may have some special gifts indicated in your chart. These are special abilities which you were already born with and to which you already have easy access. These are special talents which you can use to deal with the ones marked # in your own chart and which you can also use to go beyond that to solve the crime problem in your community and in society as a whole. Your outstanding talents in this regard are marked with a ! at the beginning of the first paragraph of the interpretation. You will find that you feel more fulfilled and that your energy flows better if you use any such talents for the positive purposes for which they were intended. Any marked ! would be your starting point if you decide to go beyond protecting yourself from crime to helping others.

Please note that no claim is made or implied that this report will guarantee that you will be safe from crime, because what really counts is how you use the knowledge gained from the report. Also, you may have had past karma prior to reading the report which would take special work to neutralize, in order for all risk of crime to be removed.

Note: This Report is a serious report, rather than being on the level of entertainment. It addresses the serious problem of crime and how to overcome it. If you have ever been a victim of a crime, or know someone who has, or if you live in an area where crime is an issue, it is designed to help you. If you are fortunate enough not to have been touched by crime, it will give you insight into the problem and show you how you can, if you choose, from your fortunate position, improve the world for others, by putting your higher compassion to good use.

Chapter 1: The Ascendant

Ascendant, Introduction:

The Ascendant indicates how we present ourselves to the world. Even if we are a certain way inside, we may not realize that we are projecting a different impression outwardly. By knowing how we first appear to others, we can be safer and better able to defend ourselves and avoid situations with which we do not identify.

If we project positively, this comes back to us. If we project negatively, this comes back to us too.

The Ascendant is also important as a focal point for other energy in the chart and for the energy which comes back to us.

Aquarius Rising:

You have the advantage that your behavior is unpredictable to others. Anyone trying to find out when you will not be home or when you will be walking along a certain path will not be able to plan any crime.

You seek efficient ways of preventing crimes, such as electronic solutions. Your solutions involve your inventive intellect rather than any physical confrontation. For example, you are likely to use telephone technology, computers or electronic security devices.

You are idealistic and you would like to solve the problem of crime for everyone at once. Therefore, you are likely to organize residents' meetings, get a crime prevention group going in your neighborhood, and approach your political representatives with the solutions which you believe would work.

You tend to be open-minded and tolerant but you can be put off balance by persons who impose a lot of rules on you. At these times, you become argumentative and frustrated and need to employ more positive thoughts in order to decrease your vulnerability to crime. This may well involve some group solution, of people with the common problem working together.

Be sure that, in all your idealism, you look after the fort at home and protect your own interests from crime.

Chapter 2: The Sun

Sun, Introduction:

The Sun rules the expression of basic energy potential and creative drive to grow and develop as an individual. It rules the dynamic expression of the will.

If the energy of the Sun is blocked or distorted, the negative manifestations which may occur are crimes resulting from the compulsion or will to do something; crimes as part of a lifestyle; crimes involving the life of someone; crimes resulting from a weak ego or the ability to be influenced; and crimes resulting from a threatened ego or from too much egotism.

To protect yourself from crimes involving the energy of the Sun, you need to affirm the strength of your own willpower. If you do this, whatever happens, you will still be fully aware at the deeper levels of your personality that you are a valuable, creative individual, in control of your own destiny. Affirm, too, that your inner will comes into manifestation from the infinite source, so that your ego will be guided by the spiritual direction. In that way, you will not be attached to your ego, but will see it as a connection to something even greater. Your ego is the means of bringing the inspiration of this greater power into your daily life.

Here is how the energy of the Sun works in your own chart:

Sun in Gemini:

You are quick-thinking and quick-acting and this enables you to avert crime. You would stand a good chance of out-running any attacker.

You are versatile in conversation and would be able to think of ways of talking any criminal out of the crime or of diverting his or her attention quickly to something else.

You are clever and it would be hard for anyone to put anything over on you, because you could outsmart them. You have a good memory and could remember license plate numbers and other details and readily convey this information to the police.

You have a good network of relatives and friends who help one another, so you are not any easy target for a crime. You may even have a Neighborhood Watch program in your area, but certainly you would be on the telephone sharing information which would help in tracking down suspicious persons.

Sun in the 4th House

You like to spend lots of time at home as this is where you can express yourself best. You would, therefore, have the opportunity to be aware of what needs to be done to make your home safe and to install whatever security measures are necessary.

You may have children of your own or look after other people's children in your home, in which case you would be responsible for their safety and security. You would be capable of making it a pleasant experience for children to learn what to do to be safe.

You would likely take the lead in protecting your older relatives from crime, too, and in making sure that their houses have the proper security equipment, such as bright lights at night.

Sun Sextile Mars:

(!) You have a very favorable way of combining your inner willpower with practical action. You have a talent for wishing something to be so and then bringing it into manifestation. That is because you think positively and the universe supports those who are in tune with their own self-expression and who also want to do something positive.

You are able to bring the light to those who think that they must be egotistical to get their message across. The message which you have for them is that aggression is not necessary, because one's desires can be fulfilled in more peaceful, yet dynamic ways.

You have a strong constitution and a high energy level and would be able to lead others in building their vitality, self-esteem, and happiness. Your positive outlook could neutralize the criminal element, both in your own life and for others.

Sun Sextile Uranus:

You have a unique and dynamic way of expressing a great deal of creativity. You would be a leader in getting others to accept the fact that astrology can help to prevent crimes. You would attract positive attention by showing that crime prevention can be fun and interesting.

You would do well as the leader of a community group. You would both provide leadership and be willing to listen to the ideas of others, no matter how unusual they may be. Such discussion could help to remove crime from the community, by getting at why some feel that others are not tolerant enough and, at the same time, helping the participants to discover their own inner potential. You could also lead those with a group purpose to help bring about political changes which would help prevent crime, such as more community policing, more recreational facilities for the young, and support for community theatre projects.

Chapter 3: The Moon

Moon, Introduction:

The Moon, in its usual meaning, rules immediate emotional responses, attitudes instilled from family or childhood, your likely reaction to external influences and the actions of others, home life, your relationships with your mother and with women in general, and your manner of responding to the public at large.

If the energy of the Moon is blocked or distorted, its negative manifestations can occur. That would include crimes involving the role of mother, wife, or live-in girlfriend; emotionally-based crimes; crimes resulting from a disrupted childhood; crimes involving sentimental items; and crimes resulting from immediate feelings or fears. In fact, quite often it is the transiting Moon which triggers a natal planet when a crime occurs. (Mars is the other frequent trigger).

To protect yourself from crimes associated with Moon energy, work at cultivating domestic peace or else move into a more nurturing home environment; work through any childhood traumas you may have had; be in tune with your emotions; protect any sentimental items you may possess; and learn to think logically, rather than get caught up in the emotions of others. As long as you nurture yourself and act as if you value your home, you will dispel the kind of energy which would work against your home security.

Here is how the energy of the Moon works in your own chart:

Moon in Taurus:

Make realistic preparations for your financial security, as you need this in order to be happy. Realize that real security comes from within, so that regardless of your outer circumstances, you will have good self-esteem. Practice affirmations for self-worth.

As you may have an interest in collecting valuable jewelry and works of art, make sure that you take all of the precautions against theft.

Do not rush into financial dealings impulsively, but rather check out the long-term possibilities thoroughly first. In this way, you will be protected from shrewd opportunists.

You may like to relax by creating beautiful gardens around your home. You may also be a good painter, sculptor or musician. These interests put out a peaceful vibration which offsets crime by making others feel at peace too.

You may not have had a great deal of wealth when you were young and you seek to make up for this now through your hard work. Make sure that others do not take advantage of any insecure feelings you may have from when you were young. Also, if you do acquire wealth as you get older, remember that you have earned it and that others should not be jealous or possessive or try to get it from you.

Moon in the 2nd House

You have an intense need for security and the thing you need to realize is that security ultimately comes from within rather than from efforts to acquire possessions and to fortify your home against attackers. Higher meditations would help you to get to know whom you really are inside. Deep within each of us is a level of great stability and security, beyond the day-to-day earthly challenges. By tuning in to our inner strength, we can manifest this greater awareness in our everyday lives and live a life of security and stability which is far beyond the unpredictability of day-to-day life.

Nevertheless, until you have mastered this thoroughly, you could benefit from practical security measures to protect your home, such as good locks, proper lighting and safe storage of valuable items.

Moon Conjunct Venus:

You are very emotional and romantic and likely to have very close friends, particularly female. However, to protect yourself from crime, you need to make sure that you can be independent enough on your own so that you are not relying on the decisions of others to protect you. Crime prevention requires rational, objective assessment of the circumstances and you would do well to develop these qualities. Emotions and romance have their benefits but you also need to be able to be assertive and even cold at certain times, for your own protection. Remember that criminals are not sentimental idealists.

At the same time, there will be situations where being with friends will be safer than being alone and you have an advantage there. However, you can do both - have friends and be strong within yourself too.

Moon Opposition Neptune:

(#) Somehow you may feel that you do not deserve to be nurtured and you need to overcome this problem, so that you will not turn to alcohol or drugs. It could be that your mother was addicted to something and that you came to associate a harmful addiction with that which is certainly not harmful, namely motherly nurturing. It is not too late for you to get the nurturing you need from caring persons who both genuinely have your best interests at heart and who can get you beyond the addiction. You can also come to see that you can give yourself permission to nurture yourself, without the association of that with something which is only an escape from lack of nurturing.

Stay away from those who promote the use of drugs and alcohol. Instead, express your emotions in a positive way, which will release any negativity inside and make you happy. You could do this with your musical or artistic talent, your psychic ability, or your compassion for the less fortunate. The main thing is to find yourself, love yourself, and enhance your self-esteem.

Moon Square Jupiter:

You must resolve within yourself the conflict between doing that which nurtures others and that which brings wealth to yourself. If you struggle along, you will find your own solutions to this, such as a job where you are paid for caring for others or else a position in a charity where the fulfillment comes from helping others.

In either case, your work will be very helpful to society in preventing crime, because those who would otherwise turn to crime would be inspired to do something good instead because of your caring and nurturing.

Moon Square Saturn:

(#) You are likely to experience some tension around the issue of how your mother disciplined you when you were young. There may have been a lack of money and this may have been part of the reason for the necessity of being careful not to be over-indulgent. However, your mother would have worked hard and eventually overcome obstacles to give you a stable upbringing. You would have internalized this belief that difficulties can eventually be surmounted by taking a positive attitude about work.

You need to work on prosperity consciousness, that is, the belief that you deserve to have enough - enough love and enough money -because if you go around with the belief that you do not deserve to have as much as other people, then someone may try to take what you have away from you.

Moon Trine Pluto:

(!) You experience ease in making your initial, emotional responses have a profound effect on many people. You could tell right away what a child needs in terms of nurturing, and then you could provide this and much more. You would have a profound effect upon women, as your initial meeting with them would have a lasting emotional effect on them. You are also deeply affected emotionally by children and women yourself. You need, therefore, to be aware of this and to use this intense energy in a positive way.

Make sure first that your own emotional baggage is cleared up from the past and then proceed to heal others. You would do very well at this; in fact you need to do it, in order to keep your own energy flowing. You could potentially reach young people and transform their emotional outlook, so that they would not get into crime. You could also, with the proper training, work with families who have problems of domestic violence, because you understand instinctively both how emotions can be powerful and how they can be controlled.

Another outlet for your nurturing power would be environmental issues such as healing the planet and distributing healthy food to many people.

Moon Sextile Mercury:

You are very fluid at expressing your emotions in words and you could write poetry which would add an entirely different vibration to society than crime. You would be able to express the value of family life and of nurturing children, so that they would stay away from crime. You would also be good at teaching a class of young people, so that they would develop their minds and learn to care about others as they grow.

Chapter 4: Mercury

Mercury, Introduction:

Mercury rules both Gemini and Virgo. Gemini pertains to the communication of thoughts and information, whereas Virgo has to do with the organization and analysis of facts. Both are mental signs and are usually above the lower realm in which crimes tend to occur.

If the energy of Mercury is blocked or distorted, there are some negative manifestations of its energy which can take place. One of the Gemini ones is smooth talking. Another is clouded thinking. Crimes involving secret communications or interference with communication would also have a Mercury component. As for Virgo, Virgo has to do with analysis and logic and can, therefore, indicate the pushing of rules. Virgo is related to small details and can be a factor in petty theft. The work connotation of Virgo can come out in crimes in the workplace. White-collar crimes can have a Mercury component.

To protect yourself from crimes in which Mercury energy is a factor, develop your mind so that you will be able to outsmart the offender. Use your mental ability, so that you will not be unconsciously leaving it up to the less scrupulous to remind you of the potential of mental faculties. Have your information organized and communicate it well, to leave less room for crime to occur.

Mercury in Cancer:

You tend to be emotional in your thinking, so maybe you are worrying too much about crime. Practice positive affirmations in order to have happy emotions and constructive thoughts.

If you are calling the police to report a crime, try to make your communication organized and coherent, rather than sound emotional, as it is the essential facts which will help them to solve it.

You have a good memory and the ability to absorb knowledge unconsciously. You can use this ability to remember what a suspect looked like. You might even be able to have a picture of the person in your mind, the way an artist does when drawing.

Your thoughts are often about your family and how you can care for them better. You can make sure that they get to see the literature which the police can provide about crime prevention.

You are quick-acting when it comes to children and able to rescue them efficiently in an emergency, because your nurturing instinct takes over.

Communicate with your children and your spouse about what are the best things to do to prevent crime. Make sure that your children understand what is involved in calling for help, not accepting rides with strangers, and defending themselves.

Mercury in the 5th House

You are good at teaching children and would be able to instill in them the knowledge they need to protect themselves from crime. For example, you could teach them to remember their home telephone number and the number of the police. You would teach them the various do's and don'ts and rules such as not to accept a ride with a stranger.

As you may study or write about art, you would be engaging in peaceful activity which would be unlikely to involve you with the criminal element.

Be wary of any persons who make a quick change of name or identity, as they may have a criminal intent.

Mercury Trine Neptune:

You have a special talent for poetry, song-writing or acting. You might also become a channeler, who could guide others in the prevention of crime. You are likely to receive guidance from higher spiritual entities, particularly if you meditate, eat a healthy diet, and are attuned to nature. You also have an ability to put these inspirations to practical use in the everyday world.

You could develop these gifts to become a psychic who could help the police to solve crimes. However, if you undertake to do this, make sure first that you have done subconscious clearing of any blockages from your own past so that these will not be stirred up by what you perceive from a higher state of consciousness. If you practice meditation techniques to open up your chakras and keep tuned in to yourself, your achievements and sense of fulfillment will be very great.

Mercury Sextile Pluto:

You have a talent for reaching the masses through the written or spoken word. You are very self-expressive and creative with words and you know which words will have the most profound effect.

You could use this talent towards crime prevention. For example, you could work for a radio or television show which gives information about specific crimes and wanted persons. You might write a newspaper column or book on crime prevention. Or, you could give lectures on it.

Chapter 5: Venus

Venus, Introduction:

Venus rules both Libra and Taurus. It rules social, romantic and artistic expression, social relationships and close friendships. Venus, being the traditional goddess of love, is the opposite polarity to Mars, the god of war. The energy of Venus, when properly used, can offset the aggression of Mars and thereby neutralize the tendency towards many crimes. Venus can make peace and build bridges of understanding.

However, when the energy of Venus gets distorted or is not allowed its proper expression, it can result in crimes associated with too much passivity or not enough aggression, such as robbery, attacks on females or vulnerable males, sexual assault, and crimes involving girlfriends. What happens in these crimes is that, when there is a build-up of unexpressed Venus energy in the victim, it attracts the opposite polarity to itself. These crimes occur when there is also a build-up of too much Mars energy (or sometimes Pluto or other energy) in the offender. The two polarities meet, often without the prior conscious awareness by either victim or offender that their energy is out of balance. You can avoid crimes associated with your Venus energy by making sure that it has enough legitimate outlets, such as art, loving relationships and good friendships.

Venus in Taurus:

You have a very peaceful, artistic nature, certainly not the aggressive nature which one would associate with involvement in disputes of any kind.

You are also loyal and enduring in relationships. Therefore, you are likely to bring about domestic harmony, rather than any disagreement in the home.

As you are honest rather than shrewd, you need to be cautious with others who may not share your belief that they should work for what they have. However, because you are honest, you will be able to spot any dishonesty in others immediately, simply because it would be such a contrast to your own personality.

You like to have nice possessions of good value. There is a certain amount of responsibility which goes along with this, to make sure that your possessions are secure. It would be worth your while to get good locks and a security system for your house. You could also record the serial numbers of valuable possessions, so that they could be identified if stolen. If you collect valuable art, make sure that it is under lock and key from intruders.

Security is very important to you and the ultimate lesson about security is that it comes from within. If you feel secure at the unconscious level, you will then be secure at the outer level. Practice positive affirmations so that you will build up a solid reserve of self-confidence.

Venus in the 2nd House

You are very artistic and musical and likely to promote peace rather than crime. The good vibes you put out are likely to be returned to you in the form of peace. You are likely to associate with non-aggressive persons and to try to keep things calm and sociable with those whom you know. You could assert your physical strength if you ever needed to, but you would far rather treat others with kindness and have them be kind to you in return.

You are likely to attract wealth and, of course, you need to protect your wealth from those who may try to get it away from you. Be aware of not carrying large sums of money. Keep your money and valuables at the bank rather than at home, so that they cannot get stolen. Have a good security system and good lighting at night for your home. Have dead-bolt locks to keep intruders out. You will then be able to enjoy the security which your hard work and wealth should bring. Know, too, that inner security is the key to outer security, so develop your spiritual consciousness and self-esteem.

Venus Square Jupiter:

You may have to struggle to turn your long, hard work into profit but if you keep at it, you can do very well for yourself. Protect your valuables and invest wisely, so that you will not risk losing what you have worked hard for. Do not borrow money to invest beyond your means, because you could risk your security by doing so. Instead, study the economic factors carefully before deciding where to put your effort and money. Beware of get-rich-quick schemes and persons who promise profits without effort.

Venus Square Saturn:

You need to work hard at your relationships, and if you do, you will likely have one, loving partner over the long-term. In the meantime, do not let any disappointments in relationships get you down, because then you would be more vulnerable to harsh treatment by others, especially those of the opposite sex. Also, do not let past relationship problems interfere with a present relationship or the present person might react negatively, wondering what s/he had done to deserve your harshness.

Take precautions to be careful of your money and possessions, so that you will not be vulnerable to theft. Remember that some of your possessions are valuable and cannot be replaced, so keep them where they will always be safe, without being stingy or hoarding, as this would block your flow of energy and actually make you more vulnerable, rather than less.

Venus Trine Pluto:

(!) You experience ease in having meaningful social relationships. You are romantic and artistic and so you meet people easily, but you are also capable of great depth. Relationships are very important to you and, because you focus on caring about the feelings of others, you have a profound, transformative effect on them.

You would have a talent for assisting others who have more difficulty with their relationships. Others may have to deal with jealousies and conflicts, because they do not know where to place their affections. You could show them by your example and explain to them that harmony is indeed possible and that emotions cannot be repressed or denied, but at the same time, they must be handled responsibly for maximum fulfillment.

Chapter 6: Mars

Mars, Introduction:

Usually when we think of a crime we think of an act of aggression such as fighting, stabbing, shooting, beating, blows, bludgeoning, or arson. These crimes are all ruled by Mars.

In general, the metaphysical way to avoid being a victim of any of these crimes is to make sure that you are channeling the aggressive side of your personality constructively. That is because if you turn this energy inwards, rather than outwards into some activity, you will be using it against yourself. If you turn aggression towards yourself, others may tend to direct THEIR aggressive energies towards you too, because they are seeking an outlet for their own aggression. On the other hand, if your own Mars energy is flowing and being used in a healthy way, then others who are in need of guidance will follow your example and channel their aggressive energy constructively too. If you think well of yourself, you will create positive experiences for yourself. If you think negatively of yourself, you will attract negativity.

Mars in Leo:

You are capable of much willpower and creative action. If you decided to lead a crime prevention campaign, it would attract a lot of attention, inspire children, and make the responsibility of preventing crime seem like recreation.

You are very self-confident and would repel anyone of criminal intent who is looking for a selfless victim.

You like to be a leader and leave the details for others. However, make sure to remember such details as your keys or your wallet, in order to protect yourself from crime.

Because you are likely to be in the public eye, in your quest for attention and leadership, you need to guard against becoming a target for those who like to rebel against authority. There may be those who, for reasons of their own, think that you are too important for your own good. However, as long as you maintain your self-confidence, they will not be able to challenge you. Also, make the effort to listen to others, so that they will see you as a fair leader.

You can be very warm and generous and these traits will attract goodwill, not crime from others.

Mars in the 6th House

You are not likely to be dealing with the criminal element because you are busy doing hard work, given your skill with machinery and your demandingness of precision. However, make sure that you have tolerance for others who are not capable of being as precise as you or of working as hard as you, because they may rebel out of the need to be more emotional or to assert their own type of authority.

You are an accurate bookkeeper or accountant and would be able to prevent fraud or theft, because you would keep track of all money coming in and going out with great thoroughness.

Make sure that you do not impose your strict rules about crime prevention or health care on others, because it may not be right for them, as it is for you, to approach these topics in such a precise, analytical way.

Mars Conjunct Uranus:

(#) You have a need for sudden, spontaneous action. It is, therefore, important that you provide for this need in a positive way, so that negative, sudden events will not occur in their place.

On the physical level, you need freedom to move. You would benefit, for example, from self-expressive dance, in which you make up the movements yourself spontaneously.

If you believe in a cause, you need to take action regarding it, rather than just watch something happen which would go against your ideals.

If you surround yourself with friends who are ambitious, active and intelligent, you will be happier than if you feel as if you are stagnating, either physically or mentally.

The important thing is that you take control of your own rebellious energy and channel it constructively, so that you will not unconsciously attract unexpected, negative occurrences as a way of keeping you active.

Chapter 7: Jupiter

Jupiter, Introduction:

In the positive sense, Jupiter rules religious and philosophical beliefs, higher education, expansiveness, large-scale generosity, financial and material benefits and earned goodwill. If this type of energy is not flowing or if it gets wrongly diverted, it can turn into crimes involving large amounts of money or reliance on luck, theft of large items, or indulgent behavior getting out of hand.

To avoid becoming a victim of a crime associated with Jupiter, employ your optimism, goodwill and positive thinking. Faith can overcome crime on an individual level and also on a large-scale level through one's church, educational teachings, or inspired projects. In order not to become a victim of a large financial scheme, you can employ positive thinking to believe that you deserve to have the money which you have and to remember that you extended goodwill towards others in order to earn it. It is when you do not believe in your own prosperity that you are at risk of losing it. However, if you are in a situation where you know deep down that you have not earned the money you have and that you really have been too self-indulgent to deserve it, then you would be better off voluntarily giving a large amount of your money to charity than to have it taken away from you through a crime.

Jupiter in Aquarius:

You are greatly tolerant of different ideas. This helps to protect you from crime because, if others feel that you are accepting them as they are, they will not want to quarrel with you.

However, it is important that you not assume that everyone is as tolerant as you are. If you express a very unusual viewpoint which goes beyond a narrow-minded person's capacity, s/he might, in ignorance, think that it would be virtuous to limit your freedom. Therefore, take the time to test the waters with those to whom you wish to express your opinions. Associate with those who are broad-minded and humanitarian and you will be happier.

If you are placed in a situation where a narrow-minded person in a position of authority attempts to limit your self-expression, you are likely to become very rebellious. This could lead to possible conflict. Make every attempt to escape from them, by temporarily pretending to co-operate with them, if that is necessary to get away from them, as conformity is what will calm them down.

You are likely to be a good social reformer, working to free everyone in society from the burden of crime. You might do this through community groups, political involvement, or the electronic media.

You may become involved in unusual financial plans, but provided that they are legal and beneficial, you would stand to profit from them.

Jupiter in the 12th House

You are very spiritual and psychic and likely to go to some quiet retreat where you can meditate and invoke higher consciousness. The positive insights which you thus gain would provide inspiration for yourself and others in rising above transitory, earthly problems such as crime.

You are meant to achieve a high spiritual purpose, not to allow yourself to become self-indulgent. Therefore, make sure that you actually put your spiritual insights into practice and that you share them with others, perhaps as a way of making a living.

You are sympathetic to those in need and would give generously to help those in prison, so that they would have hope and choose a spiritual path rather than return to crime. Your goodwill to others would be returned to you karmically and even if you did not specifically work at a paid job, others would support you financially in return for your very worthy efforts.

Jupiter Square Neptune:

You are very inspired, compassionate, and spiritual, but you may be struggling between the question of whether to meditate quietly by yourself or go out and preach positive faith to others. When you get this worked out, you will be a very good spiritual teacher who will be able to draw upon inner inspirations as well as work within some established, spiritual institution.

You would be good at teaching others to avoid temptations, be they drugs or alcohol, or attachment to money. You may have learned about these things the hard way or you may have had the foresight to avoid them but in either case, your message will be powerful.

Make sure that you allow quiet times by yourself, preferably out in the country and you will return refreshed and inspired to help others.

Additionally, be sure to read all the fine print carefully in any business arrangements you wish to put together to ensure the fine print clearly agrees with the verbal words which have been spoken.

Chapter 8: Saturn

Saturn, Introduction:

In its positive meaning, Saturn rules discipline, order and recognition, but if the demands of the disciplinarian become too harsh or if the pressure to seek recognition is too great, then Saturn can operate in a negative way.

The types of crimes associated with Saturn are those of a sadistic, cruel or brutal nature. As Saturn governs limitations and rules, it also plays a part in crimes of confinement, drug enforcement, and crimes against authority figures.

The way to avoid Saturnine crimes is to enhance the positive qualities of Saturn within yourself. That is, accept that there have to be certain rules for society to work; attend to your career responsibilities, and carry out your duties as an authority fairly. Do not wear yourself down with too many rules; do not become a work addict; and do not be authoritarian. In short, take the responsibility for your own conduct and your own karma, so that others will not be inclined to fill that gap for you.

Saturn in Capricorn:

You are able to give and accept orders well and would, therefore, make a good police officer or soldier. You would be calm and practical in emergency situations and would carry out your orders without prejudice. You would be respected by others because you would have worked your way up through the ranks by applying yourself diligently. Your honesty and need for respect would help to protect you from crime, because you would not associate with dishonest people and you would not want any circumstance to reflect on your reputation.

Because you work hard to overcome obstacles and succeed, you would do well to protect from crime your house and possessions which you have worked so hard for. Make sure that you live in a safe neighborhood; have your house and yard well kept and well lit at night. Have safe, secure locks on the doors and windows. Record the serial numbers of all of your appliances and keep the list of these in a safe place. Realize that everyone is not as honest as you are and plan your security measures accordingly.

Saturn in the 12th House

You are able to be trusted with secrets. Others may possibly try to put you through some kind of hardship to get the information from you but you would stand firm and not tell them anything. You could be trusted with confidential information, for example, if you were working for the police force or the prison system.

You are likely to work behind the scenes. This gives you protection from the criminal element because you are not drawing attention to yourself. However, make sure that others do not try to confine you or victimize you if you are in a situation where you are alone. Make sure that you know how to defend yourself and how to get help.

Chapter 9: Uranus

Uranus, Introduction:

On the positive side, Uranus rules freedom, individuality, original ideas, the link with the Universal Mind, friends and group purpose. However, if Uranian energy is blocked or distorted, its negative manifestations may result. These can include rebellion, crimes involving more than one victim or offender, crimes assisted by a friend or group, unexpected or unusual crimes, and crimes involving several of something, such as several shots or wounds.

In order to avoid becoming the victim of a crime influenced by Uranus, you need to make sure that your needs related to Uranian energy are being expressed. For example, if you need the freedom to be an individual and authorities are imposing too many rules on you, you may attract rebellious behavior from others who actually think they are providing you with what you need; they will regard their actions as part of a "cause". Therefore, you need to get yourself out of the situation where the rules are being imposed, for your own good. You may also need to seek out a group of friends who share your ideals, so that you will be less vulnerable. It may be that you need to see a universal purpose in the work which you are doing, because if you are bored with your activity, then you will unconsciously attract negative, sudden events, as a distraction.

Uranus in Leo:

You are original, creative and bold - perhaps a leader in innovative drama or art. You could create an unusual television show on crime prevention, which would use entertainment as a way of attracting attention and getting the message across. Or you could take your message to children and inspire them to believe in themselves.

You are a leader in creating your own standards. You would, therefore, be above the belief that just because there has been crime in the past, there has to be crime in the future.

Uranus in the 7th House

You need your independence in a relationship. Therefore, choose as a partner someone who will allow you this independence; otherwise there could be friction, as you would tend to become rebellious and argumentative in order to get free.

You tend to seek out as partners unusual people. Make sure that they are trustworthy and that they are not associating with those who are so rebellious as to disrespect the laws.

You might be likely to undertake the cause of reforming the law, so that it will work better to prevent crime. Your good mental ability would enable you to argue as to why your proposed changes would help to make society more peaceful.

Chapter 10: Neptune

Neptune, Introduction:

Neptune, in its positive sense, rules imagination, intuition, the creative faculty and spiritual destiny. If this type of energy is blocked or distorted it can result in negative manifestations such as deception, theft, escape or disappearance. Neptunian energy can be distorted by alcohol or drugs or by unconscious self-deception.

The way to handle Neptunian energy, so as to avoid the crimes associated with it, is first to acknowledge your creative, emotional, intuitive side. Our society tends to value logic and rational thinking, but there is a whole other realm of potential ruled by the right side of the brain. Exercises which enhance creativity and psychic and spiritual awareness are very helpful here. If you acknowledge this side of your being rather than try to make it "disappear", you will not attract crimes of illusion, such as theft or being kidnapped.

Remember, too, that it is okay to be sensitive and that sensitive feelings do not need to be denied through alcohol or drugs. These substances, if used to escape from reality, hide rather than bring out your true self. Even if your sensitive feelings are painful or uncomfortable, it is better to acknowledge them and deal with them, so that the repression of them will not weaken you and make you vulnerable.

Neptune in Scorpio:

You were born at a time when people tended to be intensely emotional, especially regarding sexuality, psychically receptive and secretive. Alcohol and drugs were a major cause of crime and these crimes included drug-dealing, killing and bike gang activities. How these trends influenced you as an individual would depend on the rest of your chart.

Neptune in the 8th House

You are intensely psychic, perceptive and deeply emotional and spiritual. If you developed your psychic ability you might be able to use it to prevent people from murdering each other, by sending light over distances. You are courageous enough to face such serious questions as death and your psychic potential is very great.

In the meantime, you could protect yourself from crime by creating a psychic shield around yourself. You understand on the unconscious level how the principle of self-defense works.

Neptune Sextile Pluto:

(!) This aspect is characteristic of your whole generation, rather than just of you as an individual, so it gives insight into an overall trend of which you are part and in which you can do your part.

The trend is for there to be a favorable link between people's imaginative, creative faculty, intuition, and spiritual destiny, on one hand, and their ability to deal with extremes of good and evil on the other. In other words, if enough people meditate and channel positive energies in the right way, then the problem of crime can be eliminated in this generation.

The members of this generation have the potential to uplift their spirits from the escapes of alcohol and drugs and other denials of their true nature. They can express, rather than repress, their creative spirits and harmonize their inspirations with the divine good. They can heal the hurts which then surface, neutralize the karma from many ages past, which becomes clear to them, and they can create a whole new destiny for the future in which crime will not be a part. This new age can spring from the awareness that what we think is what we create and what we create is what we become. We have the power to choose and we can choose a crime-free society.

Chapter 11: Pluto

Pluto, Introduction:

The kind of aggression associated with Pluto is that of revenge, jealousy, long-standing anger or resentment. While Mars aggression is a quick flare-up which just as quickly dissipates, Pluto aggression is likely to be premeditated, extremely shocking, or very forceful. Pluto is associated with such crimes as homicide, extreme violence, extreme sexual attacks, and gang attack.

The important thing to understand about Pluto energy is that it CAN be just as positive as it can be negative. If the same intensity of energy were taken from these extreme crimes and directed towards a positive end, the results would be just as extremely beneficial as the criminal alternative would be destructive. Pluto energy, however, is never moderate, so if you have strong Pluto influences in your chart, be sure to maintain conscious control over them, so that the intensely GOOD results will follow. Your Pluto energy gives you a wonderful opportunity to transform yourself and others for the better. It can solve problems for the masses. Use this energy as it was intended, because if you bottle it up inside and the pressure builds up and eats away at you, you can imagine what kind of treatment you might unconsciously attract from others.

Pluto in Virgo:

You were born in a generation when there were great changes in the workplace. There were also revolutionary developments in alternative, holistic health care. How Pluto affected you as an individual member of that generation depends on the house and aspects of Pluto in your own natal chart.

Pluto in the 7th House

You have the potential to influence intense legal changes. If there is a law which you think should be changed in order to have less crime, study the facts of the situation and then present your case. Gain mass support for your ideas through the media. Make sure, of course, that you are well informed and correct in your ideas first, because your karma can be either intensely good or intensely bad, depending on the type of energy you are giving to others. Especially if your ideas involve life-or-death issues such as the death penalty or abortion, listen to both sides thoroughly first before forming your own conclusions.

You are able to transform deeply and be transformed by your partner. Make sure, therefore, that you choose as a partner someone who can change you for the better or upon whom you know you can have a favorable influence. Make sure also that your partner is someone who can deal creatively with intensity, so that he or she will not feel overwhelmed by you and react in any desperate negative way.
