INTRODUCTION: PROGRESSED CHART

Your Personality Profile is revealed by the imprints of the planets in your NATAL Chart. The NATAL REPORT is a projection of "Personality Potential" and can be compared to a "Blueprint" of a building that is being planned for construction. At different stages of development while the building is being built, certain additions, deletions and/or other changes may become desirable (or even necessary) and the original blueprint may be modified to accommodate those changes. And so it is with your personality as indicated by your NATAL Chart. During the "building" of your life, your personality is being developed, and the imprints of the personality blueprint are being modified and/or changed, both by your own choices and by circumstances beyond your control.

The progression of the planets as they continue their respective orbits into different signs and houses, and the aspects they form, are beyond our control. But we DO have some control over how we handle these new influences, and how we let them affect our personality. In order to deal with these influences, it certainly would help for us to know WHAT these influences are, and WHEN we will have to deal with them. The PROGRESSED REPORT provides that information: the WHAT, the WHEN, and (in some reports) the HOW.

Now, for the first time, we have a Progressed Report that not only tells us WHAT, WHEN, and HOW--it also tells us HOW LONG! It locates the signs, the aspects, and the house positions for each of the planets for any given year of your life and tells you how long they will remain in those positions. With each of the interpretations for these progressed planetary positions, we include a brief synopsis of the influences and imprints of its position in your Natal Chart for your comparison.

Many techniques for following the development of man from birth through life have been devised and studied by Astrologers since about the second or third century BC. The technique used in this Report is called "Secondary Progressions". This system uses the "Day for a Year" process which appears to have been practiced since Ptolemy and Copernicus, and was supported by the German mathematician Johannes Kepler (1571-1630). The system is implemented by choosing a specific birthday. We then count a day for each year of your life, and cast a chart for the "progressed birthday".

The Progressed chart is the first chart used in Predictive Astrology, for it provides a good preview and overview of what you can expect in the coming year. We feel that the Progressed chart provides the first step toward using Astrology for a better and more fully informed way of living life -- AS IT UNFOLDS.

When combined with information obtained from a "FORECAST REPORT", OR "TRANSIT REPORT", which interprets the aspects of the transiting planets (where the planets actually WILL be at any given time), we can get an extremely comprehensive body of predictive information for any "progressed year"--and beyond. Check with your personal Astrologer for information concerning these Reports.

YOUR PROGRESSED ASCENDANT

Like the Sun-sign, progressing the chart will change the sign on the cusp of the first house, your Ascendant. It will also bring influences of the new sign into play upon the personality in changing, modifying, and "blending" experiences. Each time a new sign "rises" on the first house, you may feel a little disoriented, especially during the first year or two. This is because different methods, or "styles" of operating in interpersonal and business transactions can vary considerably under the influence of different Rising signs. Since the Ascendant represents the face (the "Mask") we show the world, others may begin to see us in a different light before we become aware of any changes in ourselves.

Unlike the Sun's thirty-year cycle, the change cycles of the Ascendant may not be as predictable as the Sun, since the houses may have more, or less, than thirty degrees. Casting the chart for the place of residence instead of the birthplace can also affect the degree of the Ascendant. The exact time of changes from the birth chart Ascendant and from the progressed Rising-signs can be difficult to trace when changes of residence are extreme.

The Rising sign in the Progressed chart determines the signs on the houses, just as it does in the Natal chart. Each time the Ascendant changes, the sign on the cusps of the other eleven houses may change, also. The interpretations of the signs on the houses will give some clues regarding the affairs of each house during the year for which the Progressed chart is cast. These signs on the cusps may not change very much from year to year unless you move your place of residence a significant distance from one geographic location to another.

Your Progressed Ascendant is now at twenty-six degrees of the sign, Pisces. The following interpretations are for the current year and place of residence.

PROGRESSED PISCES RISING WITH NATAL ASCENDANT IN

SAGITTARIUS--People with Sagittarius rising may appear very practical but extremely idealistic at the same time. The ruler of Sagittarius rising is Jupiter, the "Great Benefic". According to the ancients, Jupiter is the planet of "Luck", and even modern Astrologers relate its influences to optimism, good humor, and a happy-go-lucky manner. Others see you as a person who believes in miracles and grace, or just plain good luck: as someone who never gives up on life, and who will inspire and encourage others to keep looking forward. They will expect much from you, for your natural optimism is likely to make you an overachiever, constantly setting unrealistic goals for yourself (and others), which, with luck, you just might be able to pull off. Your enthusiasm will inspire others, but you need to be aware that you tend to expect them to adopt your attitude lest you be disappointed in them. You also need to watch your tendency to exaggerate in order to make reality seem more desirable and goals more easily achieved. You probably will appear young and fresh all your life. It is difficult to get you down, but when this happens you are likely to hide it very well with your natural optimism. You seldom lose anyone from your life unless you walk away, for you are usually forgiven even unforgivable behavior. You seem to do everything with wild abandon, and can outlast almost everyone around.

When Pisces is on the Ascendant in the PROGRESSED Chart, you are much more flexible. You will procrastinate with decisions and with implementing plans. You will hesitate to confront a situation, but will tend to sit back and hope it will come out all right--and most of the time it will. Your imagination will be high, and you will do well in activities that require vision. You will pick up on the feelings of others, but will tend not to internalize their pain. You will be empathetic and supportive, but can remain detached. You can be stirred as strongly now by fictional incidents as you can by real life situations, due to your unlimited imagination. Relationships may be difficult during this progression. Pisces tends to influence you to think the best of everyone and close your eyes to their faults. This makes it easy for them to take advantage of you, and it is also difficult for them to live up to your expectations. You will probably be very jealous, but will find it hard to give up on any relationship, even if it is not working. If things get completely out of control and this

"laid-back" attitude doesn't work, you can feel devastated and become severely depressed. This could make you extremely vulnerable to alcohol and/or other drugs, especially if you feel a strong enough need to escape. There will be much idealism in this sign, and if you can temper it enough with reality, this progression can be a beautiful time for you and those around you.

PROGRESSED TAURUS ON 2ND HOUSE--Venus, planet of talent, art, and aesthetics, rules Taurus, the sign of stability, stickability and stubbornness. This combination progressed to the second house of money, worth, and personal finances can provide an awesome combination for making money. There will also be a desire for real property, and your own home. With this determination to make money, you may not be too generous with your personal resources. You may need to practice the art of sharing.

PROGRESSED GEMINI ON 3RD HOUSE--Gemini, the intellectual sign, is ruled by Mercury, the messenger. This sign and planet are at home in this house of communications, travel, study, writing and the thinking mind. When it is found on the third house in the Progressed Chart, communications should be sharp, clear, swift, and to the point. The affairs ruled by this house will be executed quickly, intelligently, and efficiently. You may even become interested in more than one language. You may need to pause occasionally now, and let the rest of us catch up to you.

PROGRESSED GEMINI ON 4TH HOUSE--Home life, domestic affairs, and the parent of the opposite sex are the fourth house concerns. When Gemini, ruled by Mercury, planet of intelligence, understanding and communications, is on the cusp of the Progressed Chart, the home life tends to be a center of activity. The home can be a base for thinking, communicating, learning, and business activities, and/or a place to retreat from these high mental activities.

PROGRESSED CANCER ON 5TH HOUSE--Fifth house affairs include love-sex, children, entertainment, and speculation. Cancer, ruled by the Moon, brings strong emotions to bear upon these fifth house affairs when it is found on that cusp of the Progressed Chart. Feelings can run deep, intuition can be strong, and nurturing and mother instincts are sure to be a part of the natural expression now. Children are important to you now, both physical children, as well as children of the mind. Both are likely to display emotional characteristics. Expression of emotions is vital to emotional growth, and writing could be one good method of expression for you while this progression is in effect.

PROGRESSED LEO ON 6TH HOUSE--Work-service, employee relations, and health are all affairs of the sixth house. Leo, ruled by the Sun, brings great vitality, leadership, opportunity, recognition, and a sense of self-worth to these affairs when it is in this house in the Progressed Chart. Good expression of these characteristics will maintain the vitality and promote good health, while frustration of positive efforts to express them could result in illnesses, both real and psychosomatic. There will be a need for positive recognition in all the sixth house matters during this time.

PROGRESSED VIRGO ON 7TH HOUSE--Mercury rules Virgo, the sign of service, detail, and analysis. With Virgo progressed to the seventh house of the public, partner, and mate, you need to remember the old adage, "opposites attract". The seventh house is opposite the Ascendant, and there could be a tendency to seek what is lacking in the personality through seventh house partnerships during this time. With Pisces Rising, the target could be an intellectual type. These sign opposites could very well complement each other. The balance of vision (Pisces) and intelligent application (Virgo) is unbeatable. On the other hand, the Pisces person could set himself up for disillusionment by selecting a partner who could explode and destroy the Pisces dreams.

PROGRESSED SCORPIO ON 8TH HOUSE--Scorpio, ruled by Pluto, is at home in the eighth house of death, taxes, inheritance, legal affairs, and other people's money. When Scorpio is found on the cusp in the Progressed Chart, these affairs will be approached in a passionate and powerful manner. You will be extremely responsible and direct during this time. You will need to be sensitive to the feelings of others in all of these affairs, and try to avoid secrecy in regards to money. There could possibly be some difficulties with wills and legacies.

PROGRESSED SAGITTARIUS ON 9TH HOUSE--Sagittarius is at home in the ninth house of philosophy, religion, education, travel, and publishing. This fire sign in the Mutable mode is ruled by Jupiter. When it is progressed to the ninth house of the higher mind, philosophy, etc., it can indicate a restless mind struggling against traditional grounding. There may be a longing for "greener pastures", and periodic wanderings in search of things of the higher mind. This configuration will influence dependability and wisdom in ninth house affairs. However, your expectations may be too high for other common mortals, so you need to have patience.

PROGRESSED SAGITTARIUS ON 10TH HOUSE--The tenth house deals with the career, honor, esteem, profession and recognition. Sagittarius, sign of idealism, achievement, and new thoughts and opinions, is ruled by Jupiter, planet of expansion, "luck", enthusiasm, and wealth of spirit. With this sign on the tenth house in the Progressed chart, you will find it almost impossible to fail in your chosen career. Honors and recognition are likely to pour in from achievements related to your profession. You are enthusiastic, optimistic, and relish challenges and new goals. This is all likely to be enhanced by a sense of spirituality, especially during this progression.

PROGRESSED CAPRICORN ON 11TH HOUSE--Capricorn, sign of conservatism, ambition, and organization, is ruled by Saturn, planet of discipline and limitations. When this sign is found on the cusp of the eleventh house in the Progressed chart, friends could be hard to come by. They will either be negative and restrictive, or long-lasting, supportive, and loyal. There will be very little in-between at this time. You may be hesitant in making friends, and if you are the least bit insecure, you could attract friends who are the same way. However (and hopefully), you will be positive, selective, and open in your attitude toward others, in which case you will always attract friends who will be dependable and supportive.

PROGRESSED AQUARIUS ON 12TH HOUSE--When Aquarius, sign of new thoughts and inspiration, is progressed to the twelfth house of institutions, limitations, and hidden matters, it can indicate a high degree of sensitivity, intuition, and psychic understanding. Aquarius is ruled by Uranus, planet of suddenness, innovation, and the unusual. This combination can help you understand the thoughts of others, and to have flashes of illumination from your own subconscious. If you can develop these gifts, you could have true genius potential, extraordinary psychic powers, and healing ability. Your idealism and vision can translate into practical applications in your life, and it could very well begin during this progression.

PROGRESSED SUN IN SIGN AND HOUSE POSITION

The Sun moves forward (counter-clockwise) in the Progressed chart from its Natal position at the approximate rate of one degree for each year of life. This means that the Sun will progress into a different sign by, or before, age thirty. Remember that these Natal Sun-sign influences are with us all our lives in the form of birth imprints. In the Progressed chart, the new Sun-sign will influence, enhance, modify, and/or blend with those in the Natal chart--and so with any subsequent progressed Sun-signs. The influences may be most recognizable during the first year for which a Progressed chart has been cast after the Sun has moved into the next sign. Sometimes there can be events or situations which trigger significant life changes (relocation, graduation, job change, marriage, divorce, new home, etc.). Some of these could vividly highlight the influences of the Sun entering into a different sign.

As you read this report, look back over your life and try to remember if there were any events that could have changed your directions or goals when the Sun entered a new sign. You can count back to 00 degrees from the Sun-Sign degree of this chart to find the year, letting each degree count as one year. Allow about three years on either side of that actual date.

At the end of the thirty years that each new Sun-sign remains in the Progressed charts, the personality will have somewhat absorbed and assimilated the influences of all of these Sun-sign positions--and so with the new progressions to come. As in all Astrology, you have, and have had, free will to make choices. Those choices can be very significant in determining how much effect the Progressed Sun positions have in modifying your Personality Profile. Transiting planetary aspects to the Sun can also help you anticipate new influences and enhance the sense of timing. Hopefully, you will be able to make better life choices based upon an expanded base of information through astrology.

Your Progressed Sun is now in the twenty-ninth year of a 30-year cycle in the sign, Scorpio. You have about 02 years left in this life-cycle.

PROGRESSED SUN IN SCORPIO WITH NATAL SUN IN VIRGO--With your NATAL Sun in Virgo, you are modest and humble, and you rarely strive to be in the limelight or in a position of power. You have a sharply analytical mind, a keen eye for detail, and you prefer to observe, dissect, and study life from a distance. What you may lack in self-confidence you often make up for in skill--developing expertise, technical knowledge, and competency in some specialized area. You are forever seeking knowledge, but the hub of your universe is work. You are careful, meticulous, and efficient in your work, paying a great deal of attention to detail. You have little patience with those who refuse to work, but you need to be conscious of your tendency to let your work become your whole life. Some would say you are a little TOO meticulous, for you can be extremely critical and petty if everything is not done exactly as you think it should be. You worry about things that other people consider trivial and unimportant. You are strictly factual, truthful, and scrupulously honest--to the point of being your most severe self-critic. You may find it difficult to give yourself enough credit or value.

Progressed Sun in Libra would have brought the NATAL Virgo loner out into the community to seek the cooperation of others. The Libra sense of justice and fair play would have broadened the Virgo sense of detail and order to include efforts toward the greater good. PROGRESSED Sun in Scorpio will add intensity and emotion to the ambition.

When the Sun moves into Scorpio in the PROGRESSED Chart, it will help re-establish the self-motivated drive and lessen the need for the cooperation of others. You are likely to become very successful in the accumulation of material goods during this progression. Combining the positive influences of these three signs provides extremely powerful tools for success in whatever is attempted. The less than positive influences will also be moderated and enhanced. The attention to detail and ability to work behind the scenes as moderated by the Sun-in-Libra progression will be strengthened by the Scorpio influences; and the need for cooperation of the Libran will be more self-focused by Scorpio's emotional intensity. There could be some kind of crisis in your life during this progression which changes the Self-oriented focus of Scorpio to a higher level of awareness and a more spiritual attitude about life. You may begin to do more for others, and your personal relationships could be improved. You will be rather secretive, however, and you will expect anyone to whom you give a helping hand to make some effort to help themselves.

PROGRESSED SUN IN 8TH HOUSE--The Sun "passes through" each house one time each year. Its influence "illuminates" and brings into focus the affairs of the house in which it dwells (or is passing through). In the PROGRESSED Chart, we fix that focus on the house occupied by the Sun on your birthday anniversary for the year the chart is cast. When in the eighth house of needs, primal instincts, other's resources, and death, you can feel its influences at different levels. Materially, in the "needs" area, it can be a time of great concern for finances or resources, especially those held jointly with another individual. It does not indicate conditions to be "good" or "bad"--just that the issue is important. Probably the strongest influences you may feel take the form of strong psychological compulsions leading to behaviours you do not understand. You have a strong desire to experience your feelings and to understand your primal instincts better. Therefore, this is a good time to take stock and implement psychological change and growth. It is quite likely that you will meet someone who will challenge you and contribute greatly to your self-search and possible change. The area of death in Astrology usually indicates the death of some aspect of your life rather than the death of a person, though, occasionally it could refer to an actual death.

PROGRESSED MOON IN SIGN AND HOUSE POSITION

The close proximity of the Moon to the earth and its rotation around the earth causes it to pass between the earth and each sign of the Zodiac quite rapidly. It averages about thirteen degrees per day--a little less than three days per sign. Under the day-for-a-year progression system, it will take approximately thirty months, two-and-a-half years, for it to complete each life-cycle of the Moon.

The Moon is the only "planet" that could show up more than once in a Progressed chart in the same sign in which it was found in the Natal chart. Although these natal influences "imprint" our personalities and are with us throughout our lifetime, when the Moon appears in the same sign in the Progressed chart, it can give us an opportunity to modify even those natal imprints to some extent. In the delineations for the Progressed Moon-signs, we will include the Natal Moon-sign interpretations.

In mythology the Moon is always female--as the Sun is always male. In most ancient cults and religions, the Moon represents the female force which reflects the male force of the Sun. There were many ancient Lunar holidays and festivals. In modern religion, the date for the Easter holiday is still determined by the Moon's orbit.

In astrology, "she" dispenses her influences indiscriminately upon male and female alike, though each sex is likely to respond to the influences in somewhat different ways. The Moon-sign influences in the Progressed chart will affect the emotional side of your personality as it was imprinted by the sign the Moon was in at birth and modified by subsequent progressed Moon-sign influences. The intensity of the changes can range from deeply sub-conscious to dramatically emotional.

Your Progressed Moon is now at 28 degrees of an approximate two-and-a-half-year life cycle in the sign, Cancer. You should have, roughly, 03 months left until it moves into the next Moon-sign cycle.

PROGRESSED MOON IN CANCER WITH NATAL MOON IN GEMINI--In NATAL Gemini, the Moon indicates an emotional nature likely to be vacillating, but with a quick wit and much resourcefulness. You like to talk, and could be hard to get off the phone. You may be inclined to rationalize your emotions to the point that you sometimes don't know what you really feel. Your nerves could be a little jumpy and your emotions in a constant state of flux. You may find it difficult to share your emotions at the personal level, but can respond with a gamut of emotions from fictional situations in books, TV programs and movies. Electronic media should be easy for you and you may be drawn to computers, radio and TV. You could be reluctant to settle down with one relationship, but may like to keep your options open. Commitment can be difficult, for you do not like to be "fenced in". You like travel, excitement and new experiences, especially if they provide you with mental challenges. You are good company, but will always seem to be a bit of an enigma to both friends and strangers. Your emotions can seem to be pulling you in two directions at the same time, so that you have difficulty making decisions. You have lots of ideas and can be very resourceful, but you may have problems sticking to one thing until it is finished. "Slow-down" should be your watchword.

When the Moon moves into the sign Cancer in the PROGRESSED Chart, it brings extreme depth and intensity of the emotions. Cancer is a water sign, and a wide range of your emotions can best be expressed by tears. You will have a sensitivity to the moods and feelings of others that can border on the psychic. Your extreme sensitivity to others' feelings can put you in a position to be emotionally ripped off by those less healthy. You need to choose your friends and associates carefully, trying to keep optimistic, enthusiastic, up-beat people around you as much as possible. Family is important to you and you will become more strongly connected to family pride and tradition during this life cycle. Home is a basic need for you, a safe haven from which most of your interests and activities originate. Romantic relationships will be important to you now. You will be very protective of those you love, and maybe a little bit jealous. It will make you happy to be able to serve, and to give to them freely and often. You will remember birthdays and special occasions and will be driven to acknowledge them. You may become inclined to withdraw and brood. You need time to yourself to release and rest your emotions. Domestic security and marriage are important to your emotional well-being. You will be a good parent, with the exception of a tendency to smother your offspring with love.

PROGRESSED MOON IN 5TH HOUSE--The Moon will pass through all the houses of the Natal Chart approximately every twenty-eight days, making its daily and hourly influences very fleeting. In this house in the Progressed Chart however, any new beginnings made during the Moon's period in house four will be structured and solidified in terms of emotion, children, creativity, friendships, and speculation. It will be a good time to concentrate upon personal artistic and aesthetic endeavors.

PROGRESSED SUN-MOON SIGN COMBINATION

As in the Natal Chart, the blend of the Progressed Sun-Moon influences are extremely significant toward understanding the modification of the personality from that which was indicated by the Natal Chart. We urge you to review the interpretation in your Natal Chart. The interpretation of the Progressed Sun-Moon blend is printed next. Study it carefully, in addition to the delineations of Sun in Sign, Sun in House, Moon in Sign, and Moon in House. We suggest that you compare them also with the same interpretations in your Natal Chart.

PROGRESSED: SCORPIO SUN AND CANCER MOON--These are both water signs. Scorpio is in the Fixed mode, Cancer in Cardinal, and ruled by the Moon. They are in trine aspect. The influences are magnetism and self-confidence. When this combination is found in your Progressed chart, there is extreme sensitivity and emotional expansiveness. You are attractive to look at and to talk to. Your energy works to bring others to the Self now, and because of your empathy your energy could be siphoned off by those less strong. You are deeply intuitive, but you may not have a strong self-image because of lack of trust. Moodiness could be your weakest point during this life cycle. The key here is to focus upon goals and develop personal security within the Self. Seek balance between emotions and reality, and develop trust in others and in yourself during this progression.

PROGRESSED MERCURY IN SIGN AND HOUSE POSITION

Mercury in the signs gives clues to the kinds of concerns that occupy your mind and reveals your psychological approach to making decisions and conveying your ideas to others. Mercury influences the kind of communications you have with other people throughout the year: those received as well as those you send. It indicates shifts in mental focus and intellectual attention as they are impacted by the influences of the Progressed sign. It can also indicate travel, such as short trips which don't upset the daily routine too much. You can usually count on not being bored by Mercury influences, and the daily routine is more likely to be intensified rather than subdued. On another level, Mercury IS the every day routine, indicating everything we are so accustomed to that we don't even notice it. On still another level, it may indicate a time when you should just sit and think.

Mercury takes a little less than thirty years to progress through the thirty degrees of each sign, so we may have a little "stretch" or a little "overlap" of influences when using the day-for-a-year progression system. We have tried to adjust the degree of Mercury in its current Progressed sign to give you some rough idea of how long it will be until it enters the next Progressed sign.

Your Progressed Mercury is now in the 4th degree of an approximate thirty-year life-cycle in the sign, Sagittarius. You could have, roughly, 27 years left in this cycle.

PROGRESSED MERCURY IN SAGITTARIUS WITH NATAL MERCURY IN LIBRA--When Mercury is in Libra in the NATAL Chart, it indicates a mind that is primarily concerned with psychology and the well-being of mankind. You are likely to want to work with others, and could seek your career in fields such as philosophy, astrology, public relations, sociology, theology, and law. You will seek harmony and justice. You like to associate with others who have refined minds, good manners, and honest reputations. One of your greatest assets is your ability to see both sides of an issue, and to negotiate and bring about compromise and reconciliation. You are tactful and reasonable with considerable social finesse, and you work well with people in business as well as in personal relationships. You insist upon fairness, and you seek to bring harmony or at least peaceful coexistence between people. Your skill at diplomacy is an asset in any business or social situation. You also have fine aesthetic sensitivities and could work in an artistic or cultural environment. However you do need to moderate your intellectual idealism and learn to accept that life, people, and the world we live in is not always fair and just.

Progressed Mercury in Scorpio would have moderated your ability to cooperate with others, but instead it would have aroused the personal goals and ambition. The energies would have been more self oriented, and personal success would become more important than community goals.

When Mercury moves into the sign Sagittarius in the PROGRESSED Chart, it influences your mind to focus on attitudes behind the facts. This kind of approach can give you great insight into social motivation and its subsequent events during this busy life cycle. The Scorpio focus on self will be somewhat moderated, and idealism and concern for the universal community will evolve. Goals and ambition will include more concern for the good of humanity, and the self interest of Scorpio will now develop into more concern for the public arena. Ambition and personal goals will gain some powerful incentive and achievement potential during this progression, and you may open a business of your own or even start a new profession. You will be much concerned with education, especially in the fields of religion, philosophy, and law. You are direct in speech and will say exactly what you think. Existing personal relationships could be expanded and new ones possibly begun. Since your ideas are likely to be near the traditional now, you will be respected for your directness. You need to keep aware that facts are not always attitudes, and not confuse the two or ignore the facts.

PROGRESSED MERCURY IN 8TH HOUSE--Mercury in the houses deals with the practical affairs that occupy your mind, and shows what areas of activity will be influenced by your thoughts and communications. When found in the eighth house of the Progressed chart, it indicates a time for introspection. The position is conducive to very deep thinking, and may influence conversations and intellectual encounters significantly enough to cause you to change certain points of view and certain ways of thinking. On the other hand, you could have the same effect on someone else. There could be a different kind of communicating energy between you and another person in which words are not necessary. This can be a good period for dealing with financial affairs, especially those properties or businesses held jointly with someone else.

PROGRESSED VENUS IN SIGN AND HOUSE POSITION

Venus in the signs indicates how you express your emotions in personal relationships. It also influences your attitudes toward money, personal possessions, creature comforts, and social and aesthetic values. Venus is a social planet, usually bringing people together for parties and good times. It is also the planet of LOVE, and its impressions combined with the influences of the signs can tell you quite a bit about your experiences in love and romance. It is also the planet of creativity: of artistic talent and entertainment. The influences of the different signs of the Zodiac can help to dictate the forms of expression indicated to display these talents.

The annual orbit of Venus is usually only five or six days away from the orbiting time of the Sun, so it fits the day-for-a-year progression system quite well. Though there may be a very little stretch or overlap, we are pretty safe in estimating a degree of progression per year for Venus, as with the Sun.

Your Progressed Venus is now in the 27th degree of an approximate thirty year life-cycle in the sign, Scorpio. You have, roughly, 04 years left in this cycle.

PROGRESSED VENUS IN SCORPIO WITH NATAL VENUS IN LEO--When Venus is in the sign Leo in the NATAL Chart, it imprints you with a love of life and a life of love which can produce rather theatrical behaviour. Your affections are likely to be strongly fixed, with a great deal of social pride. Many actors and actresses have Venus in Leo. You probably have talent in music, painting, sculpture, and/or other art forms. You are warmhearted, outgoing, sunny, affectionate, and fond of children. You crave love and attention from others, and you hate to be ignored. You could be rather susceptible to flattery and you love to feel special. You are generous in love, but you cannot tolerate pettiness or stinginess in your partner. In romantic relationships you want someone you can be proud of--that you can show off to others. You are devoted and extremely loyal to your significant others, once you have given your heart to them. You enjoy some drama and color in your love life, and grand romantic gestures or an extravagant expression of generosity impresses you. Leo is the leadership sign, and you like to be the center of attention. Because of your own self image and your social pride, you need to beware of snobbishness, selfishness, possessiveness, and jealousy.

The progression of Venus through Virgo would have contributed some pickiness and selfishness to the relationships. The Libra life cycle will bring relationships back out with other people and add influences for justice and fair play.

With Venus in Scorpio in the PROGRESSED Chart, the emotions and sexual desires can be strong and passionate, jealous and secretive, with much pride in sex and romance. You can take your romances too personally and too seriously, but you give much in emotional expression and expect much in return. You will become more assertive in relationships and more able to let significant others know what it is you want and expect. Love and romance will be on your own terms. If a marriage is in trouble now, it will either be revived according to your terms, or you will probably terminate it. Your artistic tastes are likely to turn to the dramatic and sensational during this time. You are highly sensitive to others, and may be psychic. This progression gives you an intuitive mind capable of profound insights. During this period, you see things accurately, but not necessarily charitably. You will keep your personal pride and emotional dignity against all odds now, sometimes to the point of appearing cold and remote. You need to watch out for tendencies to control others in close personal relationships.

PROGRESSED VENUS IN 8TH HOUSE--Venus in the houses indicates how you express the Venus attitudes in the various areas of your life and how you may be affected by those things Venus rules. When progressed into the eighth house, it could attract money to you through your spouse, business partner, or through some bank or other financial institution. Obviously, it could be a good time to seek a loan, or other financial support. This house position of Venus can stimulate the sexual side of existing relationships, and give love relationships a greater intensity. You can learn more about how you relate to people and events during this progression.

PROGRESSED MARS IN SIGN AND HOUSE POSITION

Mars is energy and action. "His" influences provide means of expression for the influences of the other planets through direct action. It can express temperament, set fire to the emotions, activate ambition, spur romance on, and sometimes set the stage for accidents. In mythology, Mars is the God of War.

It takes Mars an average of about twenty-two months to progress into a new sign, depending upon Retrograde movement, etc. Therefore it will be difficult to establish an accurate time frame for the duration of the Progressed Mars influences. We use two years as an approximation, but the length of time left in each sign cannot be very accurate. However, each time you have a Progressed chart cast, the position of Mars for that year will be accurate.

Mars is now at 10 degrees of the sign, Scorpio. It takes approximately 60 years for Mars to pass through one sign in the Progressed chart. You have, roughly, 42 years left until it moves into the next Mars life-cycle.

PROGRESSED MARS IN SCORPIO WITH NATAL MARS IN VIRGO--Mars in Virgo in the NATAL Chart gives the personality much originality in thought and an interest in scientific enterprises. There may be difficulties in the way of career, but you will plan your actions carefully and execute them systematically, going your own quiet way. You are attracted to the healing arts, and may be successful in one of the healing professions. You are quick-witted and can be shrewd and acquisitive, but tactful and discriminative. You need to beware of overwork, and tendencies to be irritable, proud, and obstinate.

When Mars moves into Scorpio in the PROGRESSED Chart, the emotions and desires are powerful. Intense emotional intensity can give you relentless courage and thoroughness. The energy takes on an intensity of depth and determination. You will utilize your power in all areas of your life during this time, especially in "getting ahead", where you will let nothing or nobody get in your way. It could be healthy for you to channel some of this energy through sports activities, and you also need to learn to be sensitive and considerate to the feelings of others.

PROGRESSED MARS IN 8TH HOUSE--Mars in the houses indicates the areas of life in which you express your actions and desires, and where you need to use energy and initiative in order to get results. In the eighth house of the Progressed chart, energy and initiative are emphasized, with strong desires and emotional intensity. You are likely to have a powerful sex drive with the aggressiveness to use it constructively. Psychic power, afterlife, and the occult will attract your study and consideration during this time. You are likely to become secretive in many of your activities.

PLANETARY SIGN AND HOUSE POSITIONS:

The rest of the planets take much longer to orbit through the signs and houses. Unless they were in the last few degrees of the Natal sign, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto are probably still in the signs and houses they were in when you were born. If any of them have progressed into the next sign, the program will print the influences of the new sign as it compares to the old. It will only interpret the progressed house position. A major move in geographic location which changes the Ascendant may also change the house cusps and the signs on the houses.

PROGRESSED JUPITER IN SCORPIO WITH NATAL JUPITER IN LIBRA--
Jupiter in the signs influences your ethical, religious, and philosophic standards and beliefs, and how you may express those interests. In the sign Libra in the NATAL Chart, Jupiter imprints the personality with a strong concern for justice and with high moral principles in marriage, partnership, and close personal relationships. You are likely to look for a partner whose views in these areas correspond with yours. You will feel a need for a solid domestic base to provide a foundation for the freedom you need to express your own beliefs and to influence improvements in the social order. You may need to watch for a tendency to make moral judgments and decisions for others. You may also see a tendency of others to show jealousy toward you, especially if you get involved in too many personal relationships at once.

When it moves into Scorpio in the PROGRESSED Chart, Jupiter brings you a powerful will and deep emotions. Your mind is active and analytical, proud and aggressive, and can function both constructively and destructively with the same amount of enthusiasm. The message here is that you have a strong need for discipline and positive direction. Follow your inclination toward metaphysical and occult studies during this life cycle, seeking positive directions in the psychic regions of your mind. Avoid any attempts to enforce your beliefs upon others and moderate your tendencies to control their social conduct and principles.

PROGRESSED JUPITER IN 7TH HOUSE--Jupiter in the houses indicates the departments of life and the types of activity through which you express your religious, philosophic, and educational ideas. In the seventh house progression it enhances openness, honesty, fairness, and a strong sense of justice. If there should be a marriage during this time, it would likely be to someone wealthy and/or of good social standing. And because of your sound moral and spiritual values, it would be likely to last. Selfless love is openly expressed now, and you will want spiritual and material well-being for others. The above could also apply to business partnerships. You will be good at negotiations, mediation, public relations, sales, and the law. Beware of taking too much for granted and expecting too much from others during this time, however.

PROGRESSED SATURN IN TAURUS WITH NATAL SATURN IN TAURUS--
When the planet is in the same sign in both the NATAL and PROGRESSED charts the influences are the same, but are just more long-term.

Saturn in the signs indicates the areas in which you must accept responsibility and the ways in which you must practice discipline and develop maturity. When found in the sign Taurus in the NATAL Chart, Saturn will imprint the personality with the needed discipline and hard work for you to acquire material possessions. You will have a strong need for financial and emotional security. You are naturally thoughtful, kind, and quiet. But, sometimes you can be quick-tempered, resentful, and stubborn. You are very frugal and may manage your business affairs well. Watch out for tendencies to miserliness and excessive materialism with Saturn here.

PROGRESSED SATURN IN 1ST HOUSE--Saturn in the houses indicates the areas of life in which we must learn to act with discipline and to express practical ambition through maturity. In the first house of the Progressed Chart, it can enhance a dignified personal manner, which could seem cold and unfriendly. However, it can increase loyalty to friends, and reveal the need for you to develop a sense of humor and learn how to have fun. You will feel more serious-minded and hard-working, and that you must shoulder great responsibilities. With proper discipline now, these attributes will help you to achieve much. You will need to practice cooperation with others and cultivate love, however, before you can achieve personal fulfillment and happiness.

PROGRESSED URANUS IN CAPRICORN WITH NATAL URANUS IN CAPRICORN--When the planet is in the same sign in both the NATAL and PROGRESSED charts the influences are the same, but are just more long term.

Uranus in the signs indicates ways in which you express your urge for freedom and individuality, and how you establish your link with the Universal Mind. In Capricorn in the NATAL Chart, Uranus imprints the personality with good reasoning facilities and a profound, penetrating mind. You will wish to change the status quo in order to have more freedom and security for the future. You are likely to have strong "hunches", or prevision in public trends, thus putting you in a unique position to affect change. However, you need to encourage naturally progressive methods--not change for the sake of change, which could be destructive. You will need to try to curb a restless and impatient nature and avoid impulsive behaviour.

PROGRESSED URANUS IN 11TH HOUSE--Uranus in the houses indicates the manner in which you express your intuitive facilities and your occult interests. It highlights the lasting qualities of spiritual values as compared to the material. In the eleventh house of the Progressed Chart, it indicates the kind of friends and associates you will be drawn to, and the kind of group activities you will pursue in order to enhance the imprints of the natal influences. You will seek friends who are unique and different from the traditional, and could be active in spiritual searches far beyond the traditional religions and the reigning philosophies. Watch out for impulsiveness and instant likes and dislikes in selecting your friends.

PROGRESSED NEPTUNE IN CANCER WITH NATAL NEPTUNE IN CANCER--When the planet is in the same sign in both the NATAL and PROGRESSED charts the influences are the same, but are just more long term.

LAST IN CANCER IN 1916-NEXT POSSIBLE IN YEAR 2081--Neptune in the signs is more generational and historical than personal, and the natives share a common spiritual destiny. In Cancer in the NATAL Chart, it produces strong psychic ties to earth, home, and family. You are likely to feel a deep spiritual kinship with nature and natural sciences. You have a highly sensitive and impressive nature, but may be constantly restless, ever seeking deeper communion with your spiritual side. Beware of unhealthy attachment to family, and avoid cultism and negative occult influences. Seek your true Source for your spiritual experiences.

PROGRESSED NEPTUNE IN 5TH HOUSE--Neptune's position in the houses indicates the way you express your mystical potential and how you use your ability to visualize. It also indicates what areas of your life could be affected by premonitions, dreams, clairvoyance, and deeper intuitive insights. In the fifth house of the Progressed Chart, this is indicated by a desire for love and appreciation through romance and creative self-expression. Your artistic and musical talent are enhanced from intuitive levels. This house position gives you good acting ability, and a love for the media. Peculiar circumstances could surround romantic attachments and the sex life during this period. Secret love affairs and disappointments in love are possible. You are likely to be much involved with children with special problems--your own, if you have them, but if not, then with others' children.

PROGRESSED PLUTO IN GEMINI WITH NATAL PLUTO IN GEMINI--When the planet is in the same sign in both the NATAL and PROGRESSED charts the influences are the same, but are just more long term.

NOT SINCE 1914. NEXT POSSIBLE, YEAR 2162--Pluto in Gemini in the NATAL Chart indicates a generation when the development of technology focuses on practical applications. Personal influences would indicate involvement in some area of technology--possibly electronics and/or communications.

PROGRESSED PLUTO IN 3RD HOUSE--The house position of Pluto shows in which departments of life you need to exercise conscious creative willpower to regenerate yourself and your surroundings. In the third house, progressed, it enhances your need to focus upon spiritual values and growth. This position gives you much mental resourcefulness and scientific ability, and enhances your aptitude for the occult. Your verbal and non-verbal communications will be very strong with Pluto here in the Progressed Chart. You need to be careful to say what you mean and mean what you say, for you do influence others. Guard against scheming and plotting, and undue secretiveness during this time, as well as alcohol and drugs. Avoid negative forms of cultism.

PROGRESSED PLANETARY ASPECTS:

Following are the interpretations of the Planetary Aspects of the Progressed planets to each other. As in the Natal chart we use only the major aspects: Conjunction, Opposition, Square, Trine, and Sextile. These interpretations may be a little different from the Natal Chart interps in describing the influences, as they are presented from the same point of view as transiting planetary aspects. Rather than natal imprints, these aspects represent influences you have to deal with during the time of this Progressed chart. Some of the slower moving planets with aspects in the Natal Chart may still be in orb. However the program allows less than one degree of orb, so that the influences will be strongly focused on the year for which the Progressed Report is prepared. Because of this narrow focus and the tight orb, there are not likely to be very many aspects (if any) in this Report.

PROGRESSED MOON TRINE VENUS--This trine is especially favorable for females as it enhances the traditional "feminine" virtues--beauty, affection, gentleness, sympathy and empathy. While it is in the Progressed Chart, it should give you a pleasant disposition and your presence will have a soothing effect on others. It bestows talent, possibly in the performing arts, but almost certainly, talent and good taste in domestic affairs.

PROGRESSED TO NATAL ASPECTS

The Natal Chart is always significant in our lives, and it must be taken into consideration when interpreting any of the advanced charting efforts. The Progressed chart has moved the planets into new positions, sometimes forming new aspects with the fixed positions of your natal planets. Some of the aspects in the Natal chart of the slower moving (outer) planets may still be in aspect orb in the Progressed Chart. These aspects, and any new ones formed, will help to bridge the gap between the Natal and Progressed Charts. Because the program allows less than one degree of orb in order to focus the influences for the year the Progressed Report is prepared, there are not likely to be many planets in aspect--if any. If there are any aspects in orb, their interpretations will provide valuable information about influences you will feel during the duration of this Progressed year.

PROGRESSED MERCURY SEXTILE THE NATAL MIDHEAVEN--This aspect focuses your attention on your work, career, and professional goals. You can plan for the future at this time and will discuss with others the areas of your life that your highest interests are triggered into. Communications are likely to be multiple and in many forms. Use this progressed aspect to clarify your thoughts and actions to yourself, and to those others who are significant in these activities.
